THE COVER

"Portrait of Gordon Rayner on his motorcycle", 1984

Graham Coughtry, Toronto

(Oil on canvas, 165 × 150 cm; courtesy of the Isaacs Gallery, Toronto)

Known primarily for his two-figure theme, Graham Coughtry has a long-standing reputation as a vibrant colourist and a creative executor of the painting medium, which has placed him in the forefront of Canada's painters.

Coughtry was born in St. Lambert, PQ and now works in Toronto. In 1983 he was commissioned to do the original set design "Painters and the Dance" for the Toronto Dance Theatre. His work has been exhibited nationally and internationally and is found in public collections, including the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Museum of Modern Art, New York, the Montreal Museum of Fine Art and the National Gallery of Canada, Ottawa.
